

NUMBER 9

The Benicia basketball team will play the Richmond high school team in the high school gymnasium tomorrow evening. The game according to athletic manager Brown will be a fast one.

The committees appointed by the Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maxwell on Nevins avenue to complete plans for the reception to be given the ladies of the church and their friends on Wednesday afternoon, January 28th, at the home of Mrs. Bedwell on Nevins avenue, near Eighth street.

Every once in a while, whether it is January 1 or not, the average man resolves to be polite but firm.

Mr. Helms was followed by the trustees of the Richmond school board. The speakers made a favorable impression on their hearers and it is thought that little, if any, opposition will be made to the school bonds by organized labor in this city.

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

PRETTY GOOD PLATFORM

State Senator Sanford, of Mendocino county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor this year. The party might go farther and fare worse. Sanford is a smart man and a good man. Among other good things he announces the following as being a part of his platform:

"The abolition of every useless commission and office in the state. The money now used for paying political parasites and for oil for political machines to be spent on roads and school houses.

"The repealing of about three-fourths of all the laws on the statute books and a strict enforcement of the remainder. There is too much law; the people are over governed. It takes two lawyers, three clerks and a stenographer to keep track of one fool law passed by the legislature every two years.

"The legislature should meet once every four years, and the number of bills introduced limited to two to each member excepting in cases of emergency.

"Extend the provisions of the nonpartisan direct primary law to include members of the legislature. There should be no politics in the legislature, and men should be elected for fitness, and not for a political machine to be used for creating jobs for faithful henchmen.

"Amending the present alien land law to prohibit leasing of lands to ineligible for citizenship.

"Curtail the centralization of power. Limit the powers of the chief executive rather than increase them. Take no rights from the people which they can exercise wisely.

"Encourage women to exercise the suffrage which has been given them."

BRING ON THE MOCCASINS

Shoemakers in national convention assembled warn us of a time soon to come when a pair of sorry boots will nevertheless be worth $10, or will at least be tagged with that retail price.

Fashion is marvelously whimsical, but fashion has become too thoroughly civilized to decree a redivivus of boots, and so this warning, if taken literally, need excite no grave apprehension. If, however, it is meant to be a subtle hint that another advance in the price of footwear generally is impending, then, to be sure, we have occasion for anxiety. The trend in the price of shoes has been steadily and mercilessly upward for a long time, and this, too, notwithstanding the makers of them have become expert beyond all precedent in the trick of making paper a substitute for leather.

It is certain legislative interference with this practice that now leads them to predict, or threaten, a further advance. Well, if the remedy does not lie at the hand of congress in the enforcement of a "pure shoe law," as the leather trust intimates, it is still within our contracting liberties to enforce an informal and individual boycott against the store where we have got less than our money's worth. If this be not the remedy fashion can come to the rescue by decreeing the wearing of sandals, and fashion has issued many decrees of late years less sensible than that would be. Fetch on your moccasins.

A very important school bond election is about to take place in Richmond, and it is to be hoped the bonds will carry by a big majority, for the schools asked for by the board and the improvement to others are all badly needed. The amount asked for at this time is inadequate to meet the pressing needs, but will tide over matters for another couple of years, perhaps. Let it not be said that Richmond refused this much needed aid to its school children. It would be little less than a crime not to vote yes on this proposition, heartily and willingly. The least we can do for our children is to give them a good education. This is a matter of plain duty, and it should be a pleasure.

However old a man may grow,
In memory he hears:
"Sit still; don't squirm around that way;
I've got to wash your ears!"

There is not much sentiment around a butcher shop.

Dring weakens the system, and it certainly strengthens the breath.

There doesn't appear to be much chance of any Mexican winning a Nobel peace prize.

Why do so many fat men tie their napkins around their necks? Makes a table look like a barber shop.

It is said that King Alfonso limits himself to 24 cigarettes an hour. That is about Harry Thaw's limit.

News from Kansas, says an exchange, is to the effect that the bull moose party is rapidly going to pieces there. Huh! That ain't news.

There are a lot of bull moose politicians ranting around this state who could never stand a chemical or any other kind of analysis.

From the amount of freeze weather back east this winter one would naturally conclude that there would be no shortage of ice next summer, but the ice trust generally rules different.

With five war measures pending in congress, Bryan's peace dove is liable to get its tail feathers shot off before it ever gets a safe perch in Mexico.

Many men have gone out on a lark, and others have gone out on a bat, and baseballists frequently go out on a fly. This, however, has nothing to do with aviation.

We frequently demand of our restaurants and wives the kind of coffee, cookies and pies that our mothers used to make, but none of us instruct our barbers to give us that kind of a hair cut.

According to the obituary notices published in the papers, most everybody that ever died has gone to heaven. If that is true, the society up there is not going to be altogether untainted, unless a lot of them reformed on the journey.

President Wilson's message to congress on the trust problem is a good one and will meet with the approval of everybody except the trusts. He says the interlocking directorates are especially pernicious and must be put a stop to, and that hereafter personal as well as corporate liability will be enforced for infraction of the law. This means jail sentences as well as fines. Sounds good.

As soon as the City Attorney gets through with the tideland tangles now in court and more or less up in the air, proceedings will be instituted by the city for acquiring the land necessary for the municipal wharf to be at the end of the big tunnel now being bored through the west hills to deep water, so that by the time the tunnel is finished Richmond will also have a wharf from which a ferry will ply to and from the exposition grounds at San Francisco in 1915 during the big show. And it will be one of the busiest ferries on the bay, for very few of the millions of visitors are going to be allowed to get away without paying Richmond a visit also.

TOMORROW LAST DAY OF SALE

Tomorrow will be the last day of the Semi-Annual clearance sale at Jones and Adkison's. The sale has been a most successful one in every way and the firm has more firmly entrenched itself in the good graces of economical people, by the splendid bargains they have offered.

The crowning feature of the event has been held until the last day. This very special feature is the offering of any woman's suit or coat in the store for the low price of $12.85. While the price is a most moderate one, the unusualness of the offer is what may be obtained for it. Mr. Walker, who is in charge of the dry goods department at the store, stated that every garment is necessarily of the latest model and newest material as this is the first season they have carried these lines of ready-to-wear clothing. Mr. Walker also wishes the ladies of this city to know that there is not a coat or suit that is worth less than $20 and many worth up to $27.50.

The other departments of the store will have all winter goods reduced as previously advertised in the Record-Herald.

The store will no doubt be crowded with purchasers tomorrow, owing to the closing of the sale tomorrow night.

HAND CATCHES IN BUZZ SAW; THREE FINGERS OFF

H. A. Miller, foreman of the California Chair company, while operating a buzz saw at that plant this morning caught his hand in the saw and had that member so badly mangled that three of his fingers had to be amputated at the Fessler hospital on Nevin avenue, the operation being performed by Dr. Scroggs.

Miller was busily engaged in sawing a small piece of wood when a piece of his coat sleeve caught and pulled his hand into the teeth of the saw. His cries for help soon brought assistance, the power having to be shut off before his arm could be removed from the saw.

LET UP IN RAIN WILL BE VERY BENEFICIAL

The halt today in the deluge of rain, which has been gradually transforming California into a swamp, has permitted the rivers to relieve much of the over-burden of water which was in danger of becoming a detriment to the state rather than a blessing. The cessation of rain is worth millions just at this time.

Forecaster G. H. Wilson, of the United States weather bureau at San Francisco, states that today and tomorrow will see the further tapering off of the great storm which has been causing our rains since last Friday. So large a storm takes several days to pass by. This particular specimen went across California in sections, each fragment bringing its rainfall.

Precipitation for the past 24 hours was very light. It covered all portions of the state, including the extreme north and extreme south. Forecasts are for cloudy weather, with probably no rain.

Reports from the Sacramento region are that the river, while brimming full, is not likely to go much higher, and that damage will be averted unless something unforeseen happens.

The city of Napa is flooded, and the towns higher up in the Napa valley are isolated owing to the impassability of roads, railways and bridges. Traffic was resumed this afternoon.

Floods in East Oakland today are moderated.

Snow, which yesterday blocked the railroads in the northern part of the state, today was cleared away by rotaries, and the traffic was resumed.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tumbler full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back-misery so promptly!

Some sort of pantalottes, we note by a fashion mag., may take the place of skirts when the spring fashions come to town. How long the days are growing.

BURNS GUM SHOE MAN ROASTS M'KENZIE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—William A. Mundell, former head of the Burns detective agency, in a communication published in the Sacramento Bee of last night severely arraigns District Attorney A. B. McKenzie of Contra Costa county for his prosecution of Cradlebaugh. He writes:

"The basis for the whole story that prisoners in the Wheatland murder cases were treated brutally comes as the result of an altercation between one of my private operatives and a prisoner named Alfred Nelson in Martinez, California. The facts of this altercation I do not know of my own knowledge, but it was testified in the Martinez Superior Court that Nelson attempted to escape and was assaulted by my man, who, believing himself to be a deputy sheriff of Yuba county, stopped the escape in the best way he could.

"It is true that the man who struck Nelson in Martinez was convicted. It is also true that he was railroaded to a jail by a district attorney who had been twice caught by myself and my men doing things in public office not within his official duty, and which were considered reprehensible.

"At that time I told District Attorney McKenzie what I thought about a public official who would permit the squaring of a felony case in court, and he then swore that he would get even with us, which he has done temporarily."

In responding to the Mundell communication in which the facts of the altercation set forth by Mundell are shattered into atoms the Bee states:

"The charge that Henry (Cradlebaugh) was railroaded to jail by District Attorney McKenzie is refuted by the evidence. The jury was out ten minutes, before it brought in a conviction.

"District Attorney McKenzie told The Bee over the telephone today that he had refused to prosecute a man charged with forgery by his wife when it developed the wife herself had written the check and the man had spent the proceeds while drinking.

"Mundell called me up three hours later," said McKenzie. "He started to abuse me and threaten me, when I cut him short. He asked me if I knew who he was, that he was head of the Pacific Coast Burns Agency and that he represented the American Bankers' Association. I told him I didn't give a continental who he represented, that I would treat every man the same."

The Bee recites the testimony given by Deputy Sheriff A. D. Joslin, Will Sears, B. M. Thomas and Dr. Edwin Merrihew at the trial of Cradlebaugh in the Superior Court of Contra Costa county to show he was guilty as charged by District Attorney A. B. McKenzie.

"IT IS NOT SO," SAYS SUPT. HELMS

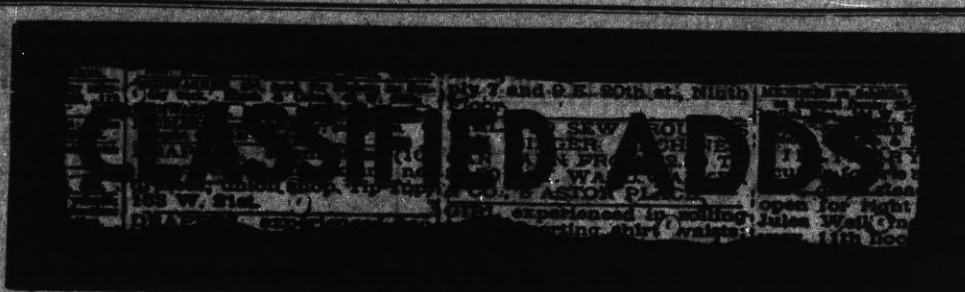

A report is being circulated about town to the effect that a large crack had developed in the new Washington school building, on the west side. A Record-Herald reporter called the attention of Superintendent Helms to the rumor and that official said: "It is not so. The report has evidently been started by some maliciously inclined person in order to knock the proposed school bond issue."

From other sources the Record-Herald has ascertained that the Washington school building is in first-class condition and that there is nothing in the rumor to the effect that the building is in danger.

The easier anything is to start, the harder it may be to stop; there are rumors and trouble, for instance.

Don't expect too much help from your friends when in trouble; there is always a chance that they aren't that kind of friends.

In a free country like this there is always some one at hand to call attention to a much needed shave.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you
Drink lots of Water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

HOW THE WEATHER BUREAU FORECASTS STORMS AND FLOODS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.

Many people have an idea that there is something mysterious and occult about the work of the Weather Bureau in forecasting the coming storms, frosts and floods. Not a few think that the observers must necessarily get their date by reading the planets, the stars and the moon. As a matter of fact the forecaster of the Bureau foretells the coming of disturbances in a businesslike way, very similar to that in which a man who has ordered a shipment of goods would estimate the date of its arrival.

Suppose a business man had ordered a carload of pineapples from the Hawaiian Islands. He would know the average time it would take the steamer to make the trip to the Pacific port, the average time for unloading and loading into refrigerated cars, and the average number of days to be allowed these cars for their trip across the continent to New York. His estimate, however, would be subject to error because the steamship might be delayed by fog, or the cars might meet with an accident.

Storms, like pineapples, as a rule do not originate in the United States. They come to us, some from the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, Alaska, Canada or the Gulf of Mexico. The weather bureau gets cable, telegraphic or wireless notice of a foreign storm. Station after station, or vessel after vessel reports the storm's arrival in its neighborhood, so that the general direction and rate of progress can be determined very early. In fact, the arrival of some storms can be foretold ten days in advance.

The forecasters watch for the region of low barometer which is the storm center around which the winds blow. This whirl or eddy moves bodily forward with the general eastward drift of about 650 miles a day in our latitudes. As the lines of equal pressure (isobars) around the low center crowd closer together, the winds attending the storm increase in force. The forecaster determines the direction of movement of the storm and its velocity.

When weather disturbances are reported, the forecasters know from experience about how long it takes them to reach our Pacific coast, and then how long after they will reach the Atlantic coast. For example, if a storm coming from Siberia drifts eastward around the North Pole and reappears in Alaska, it should appear in Washington and Oregon in about two days; should get to the Great Lakes in six days and to the Atlantic coast in seven or eight days.

Unexpected conditions may delay storms or divert them from the straight track just as a refrigerator car may be thrown off its schedule or be shipped by accident on a wrong road. Some of these storms deplete themselves by running into regions of high barometer which are of greater magnitude and extent than the storm itself. Some of them, however, travel completely around the world.

To keep tab on cold waves that come into the United States from Canada and Alaska, the Weather Bureau studies the Canadian weather reports. England sends reports from Iceland, the British Islands and Continental Europe, and daily reports come from St. Petersburg on the conditions in Russia and Siberia.

The same businesslike system used in tracing the track of a storm is applied in determining the arrival of frosts.

Flood forecasts are made in much the same way. Information as to the amount of rainfall at the head waters of streams that cause floods are covered by telegraphic reports sent by local observers. As this rain reaches the main channel, the height of water in the channel is determined by successive gauging stations. Past records establish how much a height, say of 20 feet at Dubuque, Iowa, will produce at Davenport, another station 80 miles down the Mississippi. This plan is followed all the way down the river, and at each point full allowance is made for the effects of water from tributaries, and from additional and local rainfall. As a result of these observations in the recent flood, the people of Cairo had warning a week or ten days in advance. The Pittsburg district can be given only 12 to 24 hours' notice, because a flood is upon them within 24 hours after a heavy rain storm.

The principal perpetrator of this pillar of pillage made no New Year's resolutions this year being fairly busy making a living.

No. Then why invest your money for some thing in-valuable. In case you should have to leave Richmond, as many of you argue, what have you to offer for sale if you are a renter? IMPROVEMENT ALL OVER TOWN somewhere around this part of the state, and says if the prohibitory amendment carries next fall he can still work the grapes up into grape juice and sell it to Secretary of State Bryan.

John Nicholl showed up around town this week in a bearskin overcoat. John is some bear, too, as was evidenced again for the twentieth time when he suggested vetrified brick for paving Twenty-third street, south. It costs so much that at the suggestion several of the councilmen fainted and had to be revived with copious doses of Wincan grape juice. It is not known at this writing just what commotion Brother Nicholl will kick up next, but it will be something, unless he sheds that bear coat.

One of our live wire realty men who is fond of figuring things up informed us this week that there is now over eleven hundred miles of streets in the city of Richmond. That is a plenty to constitute a healthful stroll around the city as an appetizer before breakfast. But in course of a few more years, at the present rate, there will be about eleven hundred miles more, unless all signs fail.

George McPherson made two real sales this week in the Heart of Richmond subdivision and one in the Wall's second addition, in spite of the fact that it rained every day. George is as impervious to water as a duck, and in fact to most everything else. He just keeps plugging ahead all the time. These real sales netted the former purchaser a neat sum over original purchase price.

It is pleasing to everybody to note that the engineering company having the $250,000 contract to dig the municipal tunnel is busily engaged unloading many cars of machinery and getting it set up for active use at once. They are to bore three 8 x 8 tunnels through the hills to the bay and then take the core out by machinery. In the meantime, while that big undertaking is going on, City Attorney Hall is at work on the condemnation matters necessary for the municipal wharf at the outer portal of the tunnel, so that the wharf and tunnel can be completed about the same time and the electric cars and ferries can get busy to and through them soon after completion. Some big job, that, but then Richmond does things.

Those big blasts going off every morning and evening, at midnight, are from the rock quarries which are blasting out many thousands of tons of rock for the exposition grounds in San Francisco. The rock is sent over on big barges and the contracts are mammoth ones.

We got to figuring out a few things last night about the wonderful growth of Richmond, and among other things found that some of this growth is due to Ben Schapiro. We find upon digging down into the archives that he has put on the market here the Richmond Villa tract, the Richmond Park tract, the Sunnyside tract, the San Pablo Villa tract, the Sampson Tams ranch, the Elah and Bloom ranch, the Alvarado tract, the Schapiro Central tract, the East Richmond tract and the North Richmond tract, in all something like 2,000 acres. My goodness! That man must have more money than Rockefeller!

And speaking of Ben Schapiro reminds us that the San Pablo line of street cars were put in through his efforts, and also the line running out to Grand Canyon park. At present he still has another bee in his bonnet, which will likely get to buzzing next month.

Architect Nabett is busy on plans for that new and modern apartment house to go up as fast as weather conditions will permit, on the Burg-Nicholl tract. The owner is an oil magnate in the southern part of the state. The builders of the new three-story business block and hotel on the same tract, next to Fay's office, are also grumbling at the weather because it hinders their building operations, which they are anxious to rush.

Russcott's Richmond Junction tract is being graded and terraced every day that the rain and mud will permit and will present a handsome appearance in the spring.

The Richmond Development company is doing considerable business out in the North Gate Annex tract,

Just beyond the porcelain works. Good country out there—mighty good for ideal residence places, and something must be done the coming season to get the street car service extended to the north, for the accommodation of several hundred factory workers.

Senator Owens says he is so busy looking after the improvements going on at the Owens tract in the south part of town that he hasn't time to bother with political matters, which can take care of themselves, while realty matters need constant attention. A good many new homes have been built on Senator Jim's tract during the past six months and still more are contracted for as fast as the weather will permit of outdoor work. Cutting and the rest of the boys around that office are some worried about Wernse. He has stayed so long at Washington that they are afraid he has got to hobnobbing with congressmen, senators, cabinet officers and such fellows, and eating terrapin and soft shell crabs that he will get gout and indigestion. The S. P. freight department has been requested to send out a tracer for him.

Possibly much of the admiration for Young Lochinvar is due to the fact that he rode a horse instead of a motorcycle upon the memorable occasion when he came out of the west.

NEW PRIMARY LAW IS FULL OF KINKS

The salient features of California's new direct primary and registration law, which has caused some confusion even among old-time politicians, have been digested by the Record-Herald as follows:

Every citizen of the United States who has resided in the state one year, the county 90 days and a precinct 30 days is entitled to register for the primary election held the last Tuesday in August, provided the person registers 30 days before the election.

In registering, a citizen may sign an affidavit affirming himself with any party or not, as he chooses. Unless he affiliates with a party, he is not entitled to vote at the primary election for candidates except those who are non-partisan. The non-partisan offices are county and township positions, and judicial and school positions.

At the primary election electors having affiliated with various political parties will find the non-partisan candidates on the party ballot, on which appears the names of candidates for nomination as party candidates. The two non-partisan candidates for various offices who receive the highest number of votes are entitled to have their names placed on the general election ballot.

Special Non-Partisan Ballot.
 Electors who have declined to state their political affiliation in registering are limited in voting at the primary election to non-partisan candidates, and are provided with a special ballot for this purpose.

Changes of address or political affiliation can be corrected on the register during the interim between the primary election and the 30-day period preceding it when the register is closed temporarily.

Candidates for party nominations for state offices are required to secure the signatures of registered electors equivalent to not less than one-half of one per cent, nor more than two per cent of the entire vote of the state cast for their party candidate for governor or for the high candidate for presidential elector at the preceding election. The petitions cannot be filed with the secretary of state after 40 days before the primary election.

Signatures Required.
 Candidates for party nominations in any political subdivision must secure the signatures to their petitions of not less than one nor more than two per cent of the votes cast for their party candidates for the same office at the preceding election.

Non-partisan candidates both for state office or for any office in any political subdivision of the state must secure signatures to their nominating petitions equal to one-half of one per cent and one per cent respectively of the votes cast for the successful candidate at the preceding election, whose office they seek.

The nominating petitions for state, legislative, congressional or state ju-

NEW LAW MAY EFFECT JUSTICES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—A question has arisen as to whether the present township justices throughout the state will hold over until legislature provides for their appointment or election or will their offices be included in the list of officers designated in the election proclamation of next fall.

The State constitution, prior to the amendment of 1911, provided for justices, and directed that the legislature shall determine the number of justices of the peace to be elected in townships, cities, towns and counties.

The constitutional amendment omits the proviso of the old constitutional section that the justices "shall be elected." The legislature will probably enact further statutes upon the subject, creating inferior courts in the State, and providing how judges or justices shall be elected or appointed.

The laws of California now provide for the office of justice of the peace. Until the legislature changes the law the present courts will continue with the same powers and duties. The question will probably be asked: "Can a proclamation be made for the election of justices of the peace, under a constitutional provision which has been abrogated?"

There is good reason to believe that the next session of the legislature will change the law in relation to justices' courts, so that less than half of those now considered necessary, will be elected. Complications at least, will arise, and to that end the crop of candidates may be cut down.

Official candidates must be filed with the secretary of state after certification by county clerks in the counties where the petitions have been circulated. Other petitions may be certified in the county or city clerk's offices as the case may be.
